C of C Head To Skip Global Tour This Year

For the first year since he gave up his post as cameraman for Fox Movietone News traveling throughout the globe in search of good news "shots," Blaine Walker, executive secretary of the Torrance Chamber of Commerce, has shaken the wonderlust off his itchy boots and has decided to spend his vacation at home.

In other years, the Walkers have traveled to such parts of the world as the Caribbean, the Mediterranean, Canada, Alaska, Egypt, and the Orient. Last year the couple visited Rome, the Mediterranean, and Middle East.

Moose to Stage New Scout Troop Get Together

The first of a planned annual "Father and Son Nights" to acquaint the members of the lodge with the boys and their fathers of the newly sponsored Shoe-string Strip Boy Scout troop, will be presented by the Torrance Lodge Loyal Order of Moose on Tuesday, June 5th, 7:30 p.m., at the Moose hall, George Powell, governor, announced this week.

James Johnston, Dan Desmond, Dan Hutchins, and Merle Cook have been appointed to the committee handling arrangements for the occasion. Many of the fathers and members of the Moose will witness, for the first time, an open meeting of a Boy Scout troop.

Funds to Expand Harbor General Asked of State

Request for Chapter 20 funds from the State amounting to $27,470 for proposed construction of additions to the Surgical and X-ray buildings at Harbor General Hospital was made by the Board of Supervisors Tuesday.

Supervisor Raymond V. Darby declared that this sum will be matched by county funds bringing the total cost of the project to $54,958.

Two new operating rooms will be constructed, each 20 feet by 20 feet, and separated by sterilizing rooms and doctors facilities as part of the Surgical Building.

Man Critical After Fall From Hotel Window

tempted to open a second story window, Efilio Velazquez tumbled to the ground Saturday night while visiting in the room of a friend in the Murray Hotel.

His condition is listed as critical by Harbor General Hospital doctors who treated the injured man for a head injury and a compound fracture of the right leg.

He gave his address as 1622 203rd street. Max Valdez, occupant of the apartment, said Velazquez was attempting to open the French door type windows when he lost his balance and fell over the 18-inch sill.

plead guilty to perjury, and I ask this opportunity to clear my name of the implied charge, which to me, my family, and my friends is far more serious.

"In the late summer of 1941 I helped send Ted Miwa and his wife to Japan for the purpose of working against the Tololed Japanese government, which some four months later struck at Pearl Harbor.

"I did this because I had a sincere belief that militaristic Japan was a threat to freedom and democracy. I am not ashamed of what I did. Even in the light of later developments I am sure my actions were in no sense harmful to the United States.

"By indirection I have been accused of being the associate of a Soviet agent, Samuel Witczak. Throughout my acquaintance with this man I was firmly convinced that he represented the Chinese Nationalist government, which had been fighting a one-sided struggle with Japan since 1931. He spoke Chinese fluently, and was thoroughly familiar with China.

"NOT AWARE OF CONNECTIONS "Perhaps he represented himself in his true colors to other persons. I now have no doubt that he suited his story to what he judged were his listener's sympathies. But I was not aware of his real connection until it was publicly disclosed in 1946.

"My denial before the grand jury was the result of confusion and fear for my career. Hoping there was some way I could correct my testimony, I immediately afterward went to two different attorneys, one of whom consulted the Federal Bureau of Investigation. I was advised that there seemed no way I could undo my mistake.

"WILING TO PAY "In pleading guilty today to a charge of perjury I have declared my willingness to pay whatever penalty justice decrees. I want to re-emphasize strongly that my actions in 1941 were prompted only by an overzealous desire to help stop the aggressions of Japan. I want to make it clear that I was ignorant of any association except with the Chinese Nationalist government.

"I am not and have never been a Communist. I am as sincerely opposed to the actions and aims of the totalitarian Soviet Union as I was opposed in 1941 to the goals of fascist Japan."

New Shell Station Open For Business

Open for business this week is the new Shell Service station at 2500 Torrance boulevard.

Under construction for the past several months, the modern, red brick service station is now pumping gas to the customers of David V. Figueredo, former Torrance High School track star, who is operating the new business.

Located at the corner of Torrance boulevard and Crenshaw, the new station is designed to offer maximum service to the fast-growing Torrance Gardens area, Figueredo said.

Services available at the station will include tires, tubes, and accessories; fuel and lubrication servicing; and emergency service.

A resident of Torrance for 27 years, Figueredo lives at 1730 Date avenue. He was employed at Columbia Steel for 8 years, and is a veteran of three years with the Navy during World War II.

Local Sailor Training in Pentagon

Seaman 1/c Thomas O.Thompson, of 21800 South Moneta avenue, is now attending a 16-week lithography course at the Navy Printing Office in the Pentagon building, Washington, D. C.

A brother of Marian Isaacs, Torrance High School teacher, Thompson was recently the guest of Mrs. Isaacs' brother-in-law, James C. Isaacs, and his family at Arlington, Virginia, during which time the new trainee was shown the sights around the nation's capitol.

Scholars Cop Lion's Share of B. of A. Awards

Scholars from the Torrance area are getting their share of scholarship money in the current Bank of America Achievement Contest.

One girl, Mary Lou Wilson, 1647 West 214th street, a 17-year old honor student at Narbonne High School, won second prize money amounting to $500 in the Los Angeles City School division of the contest.

Two other students, Barbara Jackson, and Jerry Downing, both seniors at Torrance High School, will learn what prize they have won in the contest for schools in Southern California but which are not part of the Los Angeles City School System at a banquet on May 25.

The Torrance High pair were two of 28 students who will earn scholarships ranging from $1,000 to $50.

Approximately 500 persons are expected to attend the Bank of America Achievement Award Dinner to be held in the Town and Gown Dining Room on the Campus of USC tomorrow night at 6:15 p.m. Neither the finalists nor the audience will know the amount of the award each individual will receive until the moment of presentation.
